The friend had said there was no authority for proceeding against a person in respect of a crime during the day time. In reply to that he cited the case of Soulat v. Drell, 1 Simon, 233, which referred to a case which occurred during the night, and which was decided during the day. The case was that of a man who had been charged with the murder of a woman, and who had been found guilty of the crime. The court had held that the man was liable for the crime, and that the sentence should be passed against him. The friend had said that the case was decided during the day, and that the sentence was passed against him during the day. The friend had said that the case was decided during the day, and that the sentence was passed against him during the day.

A PUBLIC RECREATION GROUND.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE "DAILY PRESS."

SIR,—The suggested pleasure ground for the Western district of the City of Victoria would indeed be a great benefit for the people of the city, and it is to be hoped that the project will be carried out. The ground is situated in a beautiful spot, and it would be a great pleasure to the people of the city to have a place where they can go to enjoy the fresh air and the beautiful scenery.
